DAILY COURIER.

TUESDAY,.....FEBRUARY 1, 1859.

For Latest Telegraph Dispatches, River and Steamboat News, Commercial Matters, etc., see Fourth Page. Arctic Panorama. - The proprietor of this beautiful work of art, encouraged by the unprecedented success that the exhibition has met with in this city, is induced to remain one week longer. As we have often teferred to this sublime creaion of art, and as it is evident that thousands of our readers concur in our estimate of its splendor, t seems unneccessary to refer to it more in detail in fact the pen has never been able to do justice to Arctic phenomena, and therefore is the pencil iu its graphic illustrations by far the most potent to convey to the mind, by means of the sense of sight, an idea of the grandeur, majesty and variety of that solitary region. Not a tree, shrub or blade of grass is to be seen upon cr. stal and ragged circles of the innumerable ice mountains seaving their glittering summits to the skies, while the crumbling masses of rude glaciers all around, and the distant view of sparkling minarets appearing like extensive cities, running over the face of the deep, constitute the wildest, most varied and beautiful pictures to be conceived. It will be on exhibition every evening this week, at Mozart Hall, and also Wednesday afternoon at o'clock. THEATER.-Mr. and Mrs. James W. Wallack oinmenced an engagement last night, appearing in the "Iron Mask," a drama written expressly her them by W. B. Bernard. It is the most intensely interesting and thrilling piece which has been produced in modern times. The subject itself gave the author every advantage, being bunded on the great mystery of the Iron Mask, which has puzzled all the world. The language of the piece is noble, and its effects are managed with true dramatic genius. The character of Leou de Bourbon may be considered Mr. Wallack's best, though he is an accomplished actor in verything be undertakes. Mrs. Wallack ably upports him in his various pieces.

To-night they appear in an old-time piece, enitled the "Maid's Tragedy," by Beaumont and Pletcher, altered by Sheridan knowles. The aferpiece is the "Ladder of Love.

A DESPERATE FIGHT-STABBING .- A desperate ight occurred Sunday night in the house of Michael McDonough, near the water works, belween John Kelly and Michael Mellen, in which the latter was dangerously stabbed. They had retired to bed in the same room, a quarrel ensued, and, according to Kelly's story, Mellen'came o his bed and choked him, and he stabbed him in self defence. The wounded man lells quite another tale: That words passed, and Kelly came o his bed, "catching him with his breeches lown," we suppose, and first abused and theu tabbed him. At all events, Mellen got badly njured, receiving tive stabs, two in the region of the heart, one below the arm, and two in the ieck. It is thought that he will not recover.

THE FORGER NORTON .- A letter from a corres ondent at Hillsboro', Ill., says the operations of he forger Norton, in swindling W. E. Snoddy, of this city, are precisely the same of one Robt. J Clarke, who swindled him about twelve months sin e. In the latter instance, he made a trade. gave the draft ou St. Louis, and otherwise acted in the same manner he did with our Louisville ested.

In connection with Norton's transaction here ve learn that when he arrived at Lexington, he egistered the same name he used here. was traced from there as far as Covington, where ill trace was lost. The coolness of his rascalit. is equalled only by his accomplishments in his ATTEMPTED STEALING AND FIGUR. - Dan'l Sprink er sallied into the store of Sproule & Mandeville esterday, and, as we are informed, feloniously ppropriated some clothing. The watchful clerk letected the man in the act, and charged it on nim. He denied it, and to further the ends of ustice, Cole Stewart, a pilot, proceeded to delain he Sprinkler until a policeman could arrive. A ussle ensued, in which Sprinkler, although a owerful man, was badly used up. Subsequently e got off, and he made tracks up street. He was oursued by Officer Kirkpatrick, who took him in harge, from J. T. Moore, of the Galt House, who had grabbed and held him in his wild flight lle is in jail.

HENRY COUNTY MATTERS .- Yesterday morning be last of the l'orters took the cars, and with hinegroes "left his country for his country's good." ust as they were getting on the train at l'leas reville, one of his negro women was arrested and aken back to Eminence. It seems that on the eve of her departure, she has confessed to burnng several barns in the neighborhood. She says hat she would ride behind her master to the barn he wanted her to burn-get off and set lire to it, while he rode on. Circumstances corrobo ate her statements, which are no doubt true .__ Porter objected most strenuously to the officers taking the negro, but Lis objections were overruled in a most summary manner.

'OLD FOLKS" CONCERT .- Father Kemp's "Old Folks" give their first concert to-night at Masonic l'emple. There are some thirty or more performers, and all are dressed in the style that prevailed a hundred years ago. This alone would be regarded with interest; but in addition we are as, sured the music, songs, etc., are unique, and cannot fail to please. It is worthy of remark also that the Old Folks, nulike most companies bailing from the North when they get South-charge only wenty five cents admission. The Temple will loubtless be crowded.

FINE WHISKY AND LIQUORS .- The National Hotel bar and Hudson Hall are flourishing like a green bay tree, under the supervision of Watts, Rogers & Co. A very curious story has been circulated here n regard to the expedition which terminated so isastrously on a coral reef in the Bay of Hon-uras. I should hesitate to give it the wide nublicity it will have in your journal, it I thought t could unduly prejudice any future effort for re-generation of Nicaragua, but, if untrue, in whole or in part, no attempt should have been made to conceal it from the public, thereby rendering all hands in a measure parties to the infamous scheme, and casting odum upon the common cause in which they were engaged.

The story goes that during the vorage a plot was conceed between several daring spirits to ivert the expedition from it its legitimate object and convert it into a raid of plunder and rapine upon some of the Hondaras towns near the coast, and that several of the leading officers, becoming aware that the conspiracy had gone so far as to be beyond their control, wrote ont their resigna-tions and washed their hands entirely of the expedition. If this statement be true, it perhaps explains better than anything else the shipwreck of the Sasan, as that would be precisely the bold and prompt method of defeating a treasonable and dangerons plot a man of Maury's spirit would be likely to adopt under such circumstances. I do not by any means veuch for the truth of this .120 story. I came in possession of it as a rumor, and

France and Central America. belix Belly, the Frenchman who crossed the ocean last year, and figured extensively upon the 1sthings, has written a letter to Napoleon 111, in behalf of the people of Central America. The epistle is several columns in length, and is going the rounds of the press, either as a whole, in parts. or through editorial references. We cannot think of publishing his long effusion, but can give it a passing notice.

The Frenchman's name is all wroug. It would suggest that he is a happy Belly. On the contrary, he seems to be the most miserable Belly borne on two legs. He is as tussy as if he had caten all the onions, garlic, and sweet potatoes produced upon the Isthmus during his sojourn there. The different parts of the body in the fable of Aesop did not fall into more of a fass with the stomach than this Belly Las with different and important

The leading idea of this mad Belly seems to be based upon the ascendancy of three great races in Enrope-the Latin, headed by France, the Sclavi by Russia, and the Teutonic by Germany He thinks that the fatin race, as represented by the French, are to master the other two ou the continent of Europe, and that this field of action 19 not large enough for them. They must cross the Atlantic, and form an alliance, for the protection of their kindred races in South America and the West Indies, against the encroachments of the American Saxons, or United States. In other words, he would have Vapoleon take such sieps as will scare Cet tral America, etc, to France, or at least prevent them from being in any way con

We, of this country, will not attempt to preven this rumbling Beily from letting off just as much gas of the above character as will give him ease and comfort. But gas is all that we will stand. It is the destiny of this great Republic to swallow my all the lauds upon the western hemisphere that may be needed for any purpose whatever. We must have this island, and the getting of it is only a question of time. Lingland is not going to interfere with us, Russia would as soon we would have it as not, Germany does not care a cent, and if France, Spain, and other powers cul up about it, we will slightly thrash them, and there end the matter. All the garlic, frogs, etc., that Mr. Belly can eat, won't make him and France noisy enough to keep us from getting Cuba one of these fine

As to the rest of this continent that we may want at different times, we shall take it as we need it. We care not for any protectorates that France may establish here, or any possessions she may acquire. She once owned Louisiana, and we got that from her, and we will get whatever else she may acquire in this region when we want it .-Some of our people are thinki g strongly of portions of Mexico, Central America, etc., and more of them will think stronger hereafter. The French Belly had hetter gramble and growl about other matters. He eats his garlic to no purpose, when it makes him gas about French dominion on this continent in oppostion to that of the stars and stripes. Americans don't intend that France or any other foreign power shall interfere with any acquisition they may make up their minds toon this side of the Atlantic. We don't intend to interfere in Europe. Asia, or Africa, but in America we intend to have things pretty much our own way. This is not boasting; it is manifest destiny-the mere recording of a fact plain to any philosophi c observer of what is going on in the political world. First Cuba, next the Southern Pacific Railroad, and then all else will follow as we will. Such is our destiny, and resistance is vain.

The Presidency in 1860-Hon. James Guthrie. The Anburn Democrat, a New York paper, i casting round for a candidate who can make a successful race for the Presidency in 1860 -a man who will combine strength, both at the North and the Sonth, and rally the forces of the East and West under a common standard-has fallen upon the Hon. James Guthrie, of Kentucky. After sketching a platform deemed national in its character, and giving sound reasons why Guthrie should be preferred to all other aspirants before the Charleston Convention, the editor speaks in the following complimentary terms-compliment ary alike to his ability, his integrity, his official acts, and his public career-of our distinguished fellow citizen. Seventy thousand Democratic voters in Old Kentucky will second these compli ments, and the great heart of the people will beat-with responsive joy: That Mr. Guthrie is one of the first men in our country in point of ability, no one can doubt who is familiar with his history, and more particularly with his able administration of the Treasury Department. No man has been there, out of the galaxy of intellects which have filled that arduous position, who has displayed a higher order of Executive ability, Alexander Hamilton himself not excepted. The revenue laws were interpreted and enforced with a clearness and v gor satisfactory both to the merchant and the custom house officer, and the mass of undirected and offer in officer, and the mass of undigested and often in-congruous instructions reduced to a code so sim-ple and harmonious that every man could understand it. The public debt was reduced from som when he came into office he found a mass of unsettled accounts and balances amounting to $132,500,000! In a little over two years, by closing up the accounts and collecting the balances where it was found practicable, this formidable amount was reduced to $24,739,000. This may serve as a single illustration of the temper, may serve as a single illustration of the temper, vigor, and energy with which his department was conducted. But more than all, and above all was the universal public confidence in his personal and official integrity. He was "not only pure but above suspicion"—above even the calumnies and assaults of those who meditated frauds on the public treasury whom he had baulked, and who would readily have impugned his character had they thought any one could be found who would give their credence. In silence they shrank back baffled and discomfited—waiting for a more favorable opportunity to consemng for a more favorable opportunity to consum

This measure, placed on the statute book in 1848, was never fully put in force until 1853, when Mr. Guthrie entered upon his duties. In fact, the Whigs contended, and many Democrats supposed, that it could not be strictly carried out. Mr. Guthrie, however, looked only to the law and his oath of office, and accordingly enforced it corbation et literation. It was done promptly and fully—without any inconvenience to the Government or the public, save only the pet private establishments whose members had got so accustemed to finger—

It is needless to say that Mr. Guthrie fully and cordially concurred in all the leading measures of the sound and constitutional administration of

Gen. Pierce. He is eminently such a man as the times demand. He has ability, experience, statesmanship, public virtue and firmness in an eminent degree. Sprung from the people, he has the widest popular sympathies, and is emphatically a self-made man, with all the vigorous and healthful mental qualifications which such training imparts. He has never been a professional politician, and has noue of the arts of the demagogue. He is no believer in the doctrine of expediency of compromising with iniquity or corruption; but does what is right and trusts to the people to sus-tain him. He has more of the qualities of Andrew Jackson than any man living, and like that great man does his duties regardless of consequences.— His inlegrily is known to the country, and he has the qualities of nerve, honesty, and frank ness which the people demand in a President. He has ever been a national Democrat, true to the standard in the worst of times, and is a good type of the gallant, national and indomitable Kentucky Democracy. Should be be elected, we will have an Administration which will harmonwill have an Administration which will harmonize the country, enlarge its resources, maintain the constitution and the laws with impartial hand, and vindicate ahroad the honor of the American flag and the rights of American citizens. We shall have peace and prosperity at home-respect abroad, and a future full of promise, with no cloud to obscure its brightness. Let his news he placed before the ness. the United States against Paraguay would be stationed in the roads of Buenos Ayres and that the l'lenipotentiary would first proceed in a single vessel to Asuncion to try the effect of diplomacy pon President Lopez.

The rumor of the alliance between Buenos Ayres and the United States against Paraguay gained ground every day. The t ea of such an alliance was strongly reprobated by the press of Monte ideo and Brazil, which threatened a court

Munford & Wilson's Rotate Washing Tub. have given this thh a fair and impartia trial of its merits during the past five or six weeks, and unbesitatingly pronounce it all that the agents claim for it. So far as our experience goes, it possesses the following qualities: 1. It saves labor—a large quantity of clothes can be washed with more ease and one-third less time than in the ordinary means by head. The than in the ordinary manner by hand. 2. wear-and-tear of the fabrics is not so great as by hand; clothes therefore will last longer. 3. The clothes are washed equally as well, if not better, by this tub than when done in the asnal way. 4. The washing can be done with one-third less soap this may seem a small item, but it is, neverthe less, an advantage. 5. With care this tub can it used so as to leave no slops on the floor, and, i his respect, is superior to the old plan. 6 tub will wash the finest collar or the largest quilt, woolen goods, with equal facility.

We have only said what we know to be true about this labor saving invention, and believe it only needs a trial to be generally adopted by every family who desire to reduce labor and save time and clothes. All the agents ask is a trial, and if the tub is not what it is represented to he (provi-ded the directions are followed, which are plain and simple), it can be returned. This was the ar rangement upon which we tested it, and we are so pleased with its work, that, if it could not be replaced by another, we would not dispose of it fo ive times the price.

We would call the particular attentiou of every reader to the advertisement of McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Volcanic Oil Liniment. They are too well known in community to require recommendations. But there are many of our readers who are suffering from a derangement of the digestive organs, without the slightest idea of the real cause, giving rise to symptoms such as despondency, nervous, unpleasant feelings, indecision, lack of energy, making existence a burden. To all who may be so afflicted, try this Cordial; it will give unmediate relief.—To all who may be afflicted with sores or pains of any kind, try the Liniment. Washington, Jan. 31.—Senate.—Unimportant memorials, reports, and bills were introduced.
Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, introduced the following Important resolution, asking for its consideration on to-morrow, or as early as possible: Resolved, That, as in the opinion of the Senate, he creation of a large public debt in time of sence is inconsistent with the policy of the United States, and as the present revenues are insulii cient to meet the maxoidable expenses of Government. Congress should proceed without delay to so regulate the revenue laws as not only to meet the deficils in the current expenses, but to pay off the present debt so far as it may be do irable to inimediate cancellation.

Mr. Slidell, of Louisiana, attempted to bring up the Cuba resolutions.

Mr. Foote commenced by offering as a substi-tute to the committee's report and to the Presi-dent's statement that Commodore Paulding committed a grave error, a resolution to the effect that, as Commodore Paulding resented Walker and his followers on Nicaragnan soil for the bene

THE BIVER WAS falling very slowly yesterday with scant seven feet and a half water in the ca nal by the mark. On the falls there were five aud a half feet in the pass, and four feet eight inches steamhout water. The weather continues clear and cool, thoughlvery cloudy in the afternoon, and we anticipate another hard frost last night. At Pittsburg yesterday the river was receding very slowly, with full mae feet water in the chanuel, which is as we anticipated a good coal boat tide, and a fleet of tow boats started Saturday, and no doubt the broadhorn fleet got off yesterday.

At Ciacinnati the river was receding slowly, and the next report will probably be of a rise. At Parkersburg Saturday, night the river was rising, with 10 feet water in the channel.

The Die Vernoa, Alizonia, and Dacotah passed Parkersburg Saturday night for lower ports.

The Cumberland was slowly swelliag Saturday, with the feet water on the sheads. with ten feet water on the shoals.

The Defender, from Pittsburgh, arrived at ew Orleans Friday. The gallant Westford, from New Orleans a due this morning, with 200 tons of groceries.— She returns to New Orleans to-morrow.

THE EXPLODED TOW BOAT.—The tow boat which exploded in the Lower Ohio the other day, was neither the Trade Water Belle nor Walter Ford, as was published, but the Walter Forward, an old dilapidated stern wheeler. The boat was built at Pittsburgh a dozen years ago, and had been outawed for several years.

we learn that the Philadelphia, the last hoat running in the lase, had laid up, turning over her freight, etc., to others, and one of them has the tollowing; gethe Pulladelphia very unexpectedly stopped receiving yesterday evening. The reason for this movement, we understand to be, that the Memphis packets do not gethe mails now, through some misunderstanding, in doubt, of the postoffice officials. Capt. Dan Able is now in Washington City, seeing to the adjustment of the matter.

The contractor probably made too cheap a hargain, and can't keep up the line. The Louisville and Memphis packets, in the meantime, are accommodating the public by carrying the mails whenever they are offered.

The Umpire No. 3, yesterday, had a fair trip rom Kentucky river. Her return has been post-poned until Thursday, in order to perfect certain repairs. She is to have a larger water wheel.

The Grand Duke.—Capt. Applegate had steam raised yesterday on board his great packet, the Grand Duke, to test her joints and try the engines. She was found all right, and everything worked well for the start. She is now receiving her magnificent outfit and finishing strokes, and starts South on Saturday evening next. She is bound to be the monarch of the Red river fleet.

During the summer months the Grand Duke repairs. She is to have a larger water wheel.

During the summer months the Grand Duk will ply in the New Orleans and Memphis trade. FOR HENDERSON.—The fast packet Tishomingo, Capt. Stran, goes to Henderson, and all way places, this afternoon, as the regular Tuesday and Saturday packet. Capt. Stran has had the boat refitted, to stay permanently in the trade. She starts from Portland.

The McLellau, for Memphis, last evening, had a very good trip of people and freight. On her trip from Memphis she discharged a considerable lot of cotton at Cannelton erable lot of cotton at Cannelton.

The McLellan passed the St. Nicholas just below Evansville, and met the John Raine and Empress above that port, all light, and all bound for the freight accumulated there.

The Pacific, from New Orleans, is due to morrow, with a heavy freight. She is advertised to return South on Thursday evening. The Bracelet, for Green river, had a tender on board for Bowling Green, to be followed next trip by the locomotive. Tenders generally, follow locomotives, but this one goes ahead.

SNAGGED.—As the steam boat Retnrn was passing St. Francis Island, on the Mississippi below, on Thursday night, at 11 o'clock, she enconnered a snag which tore through her lower and upper guards with a crash that drew the passing the state of the state Mound City, Cairo, Columbus, Hickman and Memphis. The spiendid passenger steamer SOUTH-ERNER, Geo. W. Triplett, master, will leave for the above ports and all intermediate landings on a Wednesday, 2d inst., at 4 p. m., from Portland wharf. The scene was one of no small exertement for some minutes, but an examination showed that no material injury was done, and the boat made her way to Memphis without delay.

Washington, D. C., January 31st.—Senate.— The instructions were equivocal as to time and piace, and the manner of executing the orders must necessarily be left to circumstances. He did the very thing he was ordered to do—broke ip an uulawful expedition, saved Nicaragua from rapine and bloodshed, and sustained the honor of the country. If Capt. Cheatard done wrong in not preventing them from landing, Commodore Panlding did right in removing them when lauded. Besides, to interfere with them, within the waters of San Juan bay, would have been as much an infriagement of the jurisdiction of Nicaragua, as arresting on shore. In short, he executed in a plain, practical, common sense way, the proposed object of his instruction, and it is humiliating to see this Government, hefore the world, disavowing, on verbal quibbles, the acts of its subordinates, in carrying out orders so vague and indefinite that no one can understand them indefinite that no one can understand them. - whether purposely vague, he would not inquire, but the impression that the Cabinet at Washington out the impression that the Cabinetal Washington winked at the expedition, is strengthened by General Walker having been brought into the presence of the Executive, and graciously discharged and told to go at large, unwhipped of justice, instead of being handed over to the tribinnals as a fillihuster, and seut to the penitentiary.

Mr. Foot said'he personally knew but little of Commodore Paulding, but from the papers be-ore him, he had formed a favorable opinion of him, both as an officer and as a man. He would ann, toth as an oneer and as a man. He would act go the leagth of his friend from Wiscoasin, to vote him a sword or a medal, but would do what would be more acceptable to a man of his stamp, rote the recognition of him as a gallant and faithful servant of the Republic.

Mr. Crittenden, of Ky., followed, showing that Commodore Paudding committed no error what. Commodore Paulding committed no error what ever. What would have been thought of him, if he had sheltered himself behind the letter of his instructions and failed to prevent the success of the fillihusters? The spot on which Commodore JOE CAMPION, Agent, jan4att Paulding landed was not Nicaragua. It had been conqured and was held by the strong handand the sovereignty of Nicaragua had heen already displaced, so, if any neutrality was violated, it was Walker's, and the attack on him was the strong lands of the strong lands.
